WHAT IS HEALTH IN MOTION?
Be Well SHBP offers Health in Motion, an online interactive tool designed for children between the ages of 10 – 18 (grades 6 – 12), which focuses on promoting healthy lifestyles and behaviors that are known to prevent obesity. The online program uses animation, videos, audio, and interactive activities to engage youth to learn how to be active and eat healthy—for now and for the rest of their life. The program is designed to help youth adopt three specific behaviors, critical for obesity prevention:

• Increasing physical activity
• Eating more fruits and vegetables
• Reducing screen time

The best part is that the messages are personalized to them—based on their answers and how ready they are to make changes. It works with them at their state of change and are taught about the stages of change in terms that are meaningful to them. Youth in early stages aren't pushed to make dramatic changes quickly; whereas, those in later stages are offered expert advice on strategies to maintain their behavior.

The parent sets up the initial registration and then the child takes it from there. Periodic emails to the parents help them to support their child's progress and to keep them interacting.

FAMILY WELLNESS GUIDE
Health In Motion also provides a family well-being guide to accompany the online program. This short guide, available in PDF, offers parents:

• Information on critical behaviors for promoting energy balance and preventing obesity among children including physical activity, fruit and vegetable consumption, and limited TV viewing.
• Family members are offered guidance on assessing how ready their child is to meet national guidelines for these behaviors.
• Tips for encouraging healthy lifestyles at home are offered.

Use the guide in connection with the online Health In Motion tool or just by itself. To download your copy, visit www.BeWellSHBP.com/healthyfamilies/
